Cameron's contribution to the world of sculpture—James Brock — is seeing his work gain interest in one of the nation's art meccas, Taos, N.M.

James is out there, working on additional sculptures which now have sold 32 this year in Texas and the Southwest. He is scheduled for showings on the West Coast and Denver, and later, with more bronzes, in large Texas markets.

He is progressing as his work—primarily western sculpture - ranches an audience which savors the tributes his horses, cowboys and Indians perpetuate to a vanishing frontier.

Often it is said that "westerns" such as those seen by the gross on television are old fashioned morality plays: drama of the "heavy" in black hat facing off with the "good guy" in white hat.

The West is the simpler life, purer by virtue of grand plains and mountains, clearer in uncorrupted skies, testier by the challenge of elemental living amidst nature's sunburn and blister.

James' art rings true because it etches these figures and their horses, which were their lifeline and companions, in rustic realism, painstaking detail.

Cameron and Milam County were only the first to know of this man's talent, which we early were proud to commend. In his early 40's James decided to develop it. He said several times it would be easier to give it up, but he knew his work had only begun in those last few years. And now he is a "happening" in one of the most famous of this nation's art centers.

In the doing, James proved to himself the real "morality play" is with oneself. The artist's discipline is at one a curse and a joy.

So we believe it is with the West, as in James Brock's Western art: not man against man or even man against environment, but man with himself, conquering first the "easy out", the natural bent to quit or follow least resistance. Once done, man does just about anything his talent and discipline make possible, and an audience only confirms what he proves first to himself.

James is finding truth about himself and his work. He is finding plenty of audience, too, wherever his figures pose a cowboy in mid-air, a bull heaving under a rider's straddle, an Indian bowed to some menial chore, a horse straining to the pull of a calf just roped.

A STAFF REPORT
(One of a Series)

If you were Neil Armstrong, Edwin Aldrin, Jr., or Michael Collins, what would you be thinking at this moment?

That I, any of the three, am making history? Or I am the proof of Euclid, Ptolemy, Copernicus, Kepler, Einstein and Von Braun?

The former three are, of course, the astronauts of Apollo 11 who are taking earthmen to the moon, walking its surface, gouging crust and completing the now familiar half-million mile voyage.

The latter are the minds, ancient and modern, long ago dust or quite still alive, devining the universe's inponderables, forces and ambiguities whose insight and genius co-pilot this moonshot.

Twentieth Century technology exceeds earthman's present facility to turn it to earth's full advantage. Perhaps that is the magnetism of the moonshot coming up July 16, Wednesday next.

Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins are enabled to pursue new purposes on earth's moon while despair of numbers intimidates us of earth.

A NEW WORLD

Perhaps fascination with exploring the moon is like the fascination of finding a new world, a new route, a new land, a new continent, drawing a Columbus, Magellen, LaSalle, Leif Erickson across uncharted oceans through unknown rivers and lakes, a Homeric "Odyssey" over an uncharted Mediterranean of antiquity.

Each one sought the new, knowing the old. His kind looked with favor upon the explorer's courage, knowing, if they knew, one of their kind would reach out, knowing they could follow. Perhaps the new, of unexplored earth, though known not at all by comparison with what earthmen know of their moon, would be better and more advantageous to men who would follow.

These astronauts, Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins, are earth's technological Ericksons, as brave as that Norseman, but almost as safe as riding the subway in New York.

In a large sense, the mathematicians, physicists and propulsionists have already been to the moon, and outward into the reaches of the universe man anticipates finally to see.

In the specific sense, Armstrong's first step, televised for the world to see, will be put forward by the geometry of Euclid, the celestial calculations of Ptolemy, the astronomy of Copernicus, the rocket physics of Von Braun.

The courage and technical acumen belong to Armstrong and his crew and predecessor astronauts like Borman, Lovell and Anders of Apollo 8, and the 300,000 ingenius personnel of Mercury, Gemini and Apollo space programs.

Scientific evaluators back on earth will analyze, atom by precious atom, the dust, rock and residue picked up by the Apollo 11 crew. These earth scientists will draw on the continuum of inquiry of earlier men of insight within the physical world. They conceivably can learn more of earth's derivation by examination of some of the moon's inertness.

LOT OF COMPANY

If you were Armstrong, Aldrin or Collins, you would know you have a lot of company waiting in quarantine with you, contemplating the awesome "ignition" of Apollo 11 early next Wednesday and that first step onto the dry sea of Tranquility.

You would acknowledge all the 300,000 who lifted Apollo 11 from earth to moon orbit, spraddled you down in the unlikely lunar module and brought you back with vacuum boxes of moon dust to a Pacific landing.

You would wonder how many others in the Apollo series would extend your first steps on the moon's crust, traverse it by vehicle, orbit moon and earth in space station.

Borrowing upon mentality born in antiquity, you would anticipate the ultimate stride of that lunar step beyond known probabilities and toward an infinite thrust, urged on by Einsteinian dimension, joining ages where return may be impossible.

Valorous Actions Cited In Bronze Award For Harris

SP4 Thomas Harris has been awarded the Bronze Star for heroism under fire in Vietnam. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elzy Harris of Cameron, received official notice of the award in a memorandum from the Dept. of the Army.

Harris was cited for heroic actions on March 6, 18969 when company was engaged in a reconnaissance in force mission and came under attack by an estimated company sized enemy force.

The award said in part "Specialist Harris spotted a complex of fortified enemy positions. Securing a 90mm recoilless rifle from his armored personnel carrier, he advanced toward the enemy positions and began to destroy the hostile complex with a deadly barrage of fire. When his ammunition ran out, he crawled to his vehicle, secured additional ordnance, returned to his position and resumed his deadly barrage.

"His valorous actions contributed immeasurably to the success of the mission and the defeat of the hostile force specialist Harris' personal bravery, aggressiveness, and devotion to duty are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit, the 25th Infantry Division and the United States Army."

Harris is serving with Company C, 2nd Battalion, 22nd Infantry, 25th Infantry Division.

Car Rams Tree Near Yarrellton; Two Youths Hurt

Two youths were hospitalized as a result of a one-car accident Friday, the only serious one recorded over the holiday weekend by city and county law enforcement officers.

Highway Patrolman Milton Wright and Cameron Police Department said only a few minor traffic accidents were reported during the weekend, in spite of heavy traffic on city and county highways.

Johnny Mann, 17, of Cameron and Larry Peschel, 19, of Bryan, were injured Friday evening when the car in which they were riding went out of control and struck a tree. The accident happened on a gravel road near the Griffin place at Yarrellton.

Mann's kneecap was fractured and he received facial lacerations when his head struck the windshield. Peschel received a deep cut on his scalp. He was also thrown against the windshield. Thomas Slavik, a passenger in the car, was treated for slight facial lacerations.

The car went out of control on loose gravel, the rear fender struck a utility pole and caused the front end to hit a tree.

The youths were taken to St. Edward Hospital where Mann is listed in satisfactory condition. Peschel was released from the hospital on Monday.

1,000 Expected At Austin Festivity For Sen. Watson

About 300 to 1,000 Central Texans are expected to attend Governor-for-a-Day ceremonies Saturday in Austin for State-Sen. Murray Watson.

Both Gov. Preston Smith and Lt-Gov. Ben Barnes will be out of the state while Sen. Watson as president pro tem of the Senate officially stands as governor through a day of activities honoring him.

He will be sworn in as governor 9:30 a.m. Saturday at the Governor's office in the capitol. The ceremony will be followed by a reception 10 a.m. to noon and also from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. at the Governor's office.

A banquet starting at 7 p.m. at Terrace Convention Center will conclude the day's special activites. An art show on the second floor of the Capitol will show the works of artists from Sen. Watson's district from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Jack Kultgen, of Waco, and A. P. Brashear, of Temple, are co-chairmen of the finance committee. Lester Williams, of Cameron, is in charge of finance in Cameron.

Car and bus caravans are scheduled from several of the Central Texas districts.

Dr. Roy Dugger, president of Texas State Technical Institute, and President Abner McCall, of Baylor Universty, are heading an informal committee arranging for the Governor for a day festivities.

A group of about 35 young hostesses from the district will assist in the day-long Austin function, including Mellanie McClaren, Patricia Stroup and Jane Burns.

Two Hour Limit For Downtown Parking

A two-hour parking limit ordinance for downtown streets goes into effect today (July 10) with a minimum 25 cent fine for overtime parking.

The parking ordinance passed by the City Council limits parking on Houston and Central streets between 2nd and Main streets, the 100 and 200 blocks of East and West 1st street and East and West Main street, except the Courthouse square. The two-hour parking limit is in effect between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. every day except Sundays and holidays.

Knife, Gun Take Weekend Toll

A young Cameron boy was killed and two persons injured in separate incidents of weekend violence in Cameron.

L. V. Malone Jr., 15, was fatally stabbed Thursday night and Camilo Vargas and Manuel Vargas are recovering from gunshot wounds received on Saturday night.

Sheriff Carl Black said Malone was stabbed by Larry Nichols, 16, about 11 p.m. Thursday. The boys were at Big Town, a place on West 4th St. when the stabbing occurred.

Witnesses told Sheriff Black that Malone and Nichols were "playing around" and that Nichols drew a ten-inch knife and stabbed Malone in the abdomen during a friendly scuffle.

Malone ran home and was taken to Newton Memorial Hospital where surgery was performed. He died about 2 a.m. Friday. Funeral services for the youth were held Monday at Lights Chapel Baptist Church.

Nichols is in Milam County Jail awaiting a hearing in Juvenile Court next week.

The Saturday night shooting incident at the Mexican Fiesta Grounds apparently climaxed a quarrel which had started earlier in the evening and broke out again during the dance, the Sheriff said.

Camilo Vargas of Cameron is in a Temple hospital recovering from a bullet wound in his left side. Manuel Vargas, 12, also of Cameron, was wounded by a stray bullet which passed through both knees. His condition was listed as satisfactory by Newton Hospital spokesmen.

The Sheriff's Department is investigating the shooting.

Electricity Use Up Under Searing Sun

Air conditioning in the continuing hoot wave has pushed electric power demand up to about 50 percent increase over the same period last year, according to Henry Siebman, Texas Power & Light Co. district manager.

Siebman said repairmen were replacing overloaded transformers in Cameron and Rockdale as weak spots show up under continued heavy drain.

Official temperatures in Cameron were:

Travelers Value Scout Rest Stop

"This is wonderful, wish you were here every weekend."

"A nice group of boys you have here, a credit to Boy Scouts of America and Cameron. Thanks for your hospitality."

These were among the unsolicited comments of travels who stopped for a "safety rest" at City Park last weekend. Boy Scouts from Troop 52 served coffee and Cokes to almost 700 travelers between 9 a.m. Friday and Sunday night.

The visitors, stopping briefly in shady City Park, where from as far away as New York, California, Florida and Wisconsin. Three soldiers on leave from Japan paused briefly for some "wake-up" coffee and two bus-loads of Scouts headed for the Boy Scout Jamboree in Idaho, cheered the local Scouts as they whisked up SH 36.

The Scouts hadn't anticipated the throngs of travelers and had to dig into their treasury to refill supplies of cups, coffee, sugar and Cokes when the donated refreshments ran out. Felix Matula, Scout Master, said they hoped that donations would replenish the treasury so that they can make the rest stop and annual effort.

Asked if they thought the three-day vigil was worthwhile, the Scouts related several instances.

A family from Enid, Oklahoma had been separated enroute home from the Coast. The first car stopped at the Cameron rest stop, waited about 15 minutes, then went on leaving a message in case the parents stopped. In a short time the second car came by, the Scouts flagged them, told a tearfull mother that the family was "was all right and headed home."

And a letter from a Houston traveler: "Enjoyed the pause in Cameron Saturday afternoon. . . . Thank you boys for helping to promote safe traveling during the weekend. May God bless you everyone."

Matula stayed with the Scouts throughout the weekend. He said a long awaited sleep came Saturday night to Scout Michael Posival, and a few hours at home when Joe Trdy Sr. stood in.

Boy Scouts taking turns at the rest stop were Posival, Daniel Richardson, Joe Mondrik, William Mortimer, Mike Darilek, Jim Delony, Phil McCall, Richard and Jackie Raymond, Scott and Eugene Mitchan, David Fincher, Bruce Zarosky and Joe Trdy.

TRAVELERS PAUSE at Cameron City Park where Boy Scout Troop 52 maintained a 60 - plus hour vigil serving coffee and Cokes to holiday travelers. A wrecked truck on display by the rest stop warned motorists that it was wise to stop and relax for a few minutes. No major accidents were reported on Milam highways during the 3-day holiday period.

FOUNDATION DOWN ON 36 HOUSING UNITS

Construction and remodeling projects are moving at a good pace in Cameron as major construction progresses and more downtown businesses receive "facelifts."

Foundations are down and construction is ready to begin on the 36 low-rent housing units on West 6th Street. The units have been laid out and work has started on the 4000 square-foot community center near the housing units.

Street work is reported in good shape and water-sewer connections should be completed within the next two weeks at the 24-house Anderle subdivision site in northwest Cameron.

Anton Anderle, Cameron lumberbusiness man, said actual construction of the houses has been somewhat delayed by the heavy local demand for his company's carpenters, however building "should start soon," he said.

A tentative date of September 1 is given for completion of Abiding Savior Lutheran Church, now under construction on North Jackson and 12th Streets.

Bids for construction of the $1 million St. Edward Hospital were opened this week with mechanical bids read on Tuesday and general contractors' bids to be opened Thursday (today).

Groundbreaking ceremonies are being planned for 2 p.m. Sunday, July 20 for the new one floor, 49-bed hospital.

Backstops are being put up by City workers to complete rennovation of the tennis courts on Yoe High School campus.

New awnings have been added to the front of Dusek's Pharmacy and Cameron Barber Shop and workmen are installing a new awning at Horstmann's Tire Store. Remodeling of the entire front of Texas Power and Light Company office was recently completed.

Rig Moves In For New County Wildcat

Rig was moved in on Monday to start drilling operations on the No. 2 Mrs. John McLerran, new Milam County wildcat which was scheduled about three weeks ago.

The wildcat will be drilled by Houston operators V. P. Head and associates. B & B Drilling Company of Milano is the drilling contractor.

The No. 2 McLerran will be a shallow test, and is located on a 224 acre lease in William H. Clemons Survey about three miles southeast of Cameron and just off State Highway 36.

It is permitted to 1,500 feet, but has the Navarro as its objective, and that formation is expected to be found at about 850 to 1,000 feet depth in that area.

Giants Take Two Games In Minors

The Minor League Giants won both of their games this week and the Hustlers and Lions each scored a win. Only two games remain to be played for most Minor League teams and coaches and parents agreed that the first year players have all shown improvement over their first year.

No serious injuries have occurred during the season.

GIANTS - WHITE SOX

The Giants scored in the three innings of their game, defeating the White Sox 10 to 8. Bobby Burton was the winning pitcher with Mike Barr behind the plate.

HUSTLERS - WHITE SOX

The White Sox played the Hustlers a close game holding them to a 3 to 2 score. Runs by the Hustlers were made by Youngblood, David Krenek and Mark Sheguit.

Sheguit and Dan Garcia alternated on the pitching mound for the winning Hustlers. David Cummings, catcher, made both scores for the White Sox. Pitchers were Ruby Barbosa and John Schmidt.

LIONS - YANKEES

The Lions and Yankees scored the most runs against each other in the second inning. Two home runs were scored for the Lions by David Rinn and Nathan Kimbrel. Each of the Yankee players scored a run.

Swim Meet Set For Tejas Scouts

The annual Swim Meet for the Tejas District of Boy Scouts has been set for August 4 at the Rockdale Municipal Pool.

Featured in the competition will be events for non-swimmers, beginners and swimmers. Each participant will receive a participation ribbon. First, second, third, and fourth place awards will be given in each event, according to Meet Chairman Travis C. Green of Rockdale.

Each Scout will be participating as an individual but will aid in determining the meet's top unit.

"Scouting friends and parents are invited to come along and cheer on the boys and troops," said Dr. Green. "Cub Scout Packs, Cubs and parents are especially urged to come watch the meet so they can make plans for participating when they become Scouts."

CARD OF THANKS

The family of L. V. Malone wishes to express our appreciation to everyone for the food, cards, flowers, and other kind expressions of sympathy at the time of our loss. We especially thank the members of the Lights Chapel Baptist Church. Your kindness will always be gratefully remembered.

Hornung got a home run in the 2nd and had 4 runs for the game. Sapp rounded the bases on an Indian error giving him 3 runs along with Ricky Kelly, and Bernard Tepera. Frank Bargas, Michalka, John Houston, Kelly Coleman and John Bargas scored 2 runs each.

Close Race In LL

The Cameron Little League is still a horse race to the finish as three teams still have a chance to tie for the championship. There are only four games remaining in this year's season, and it won't be until the final game next Tuesday that the championship team can be decided.

The Yankees and Colts are tied for first place with 7-3 records and both teams have one game before they battle it out next Tuesday. The Cardinals are close on their heels with a 7-4 record.

Thursday the defending champions, the Yankees, play the Bears and ordinarily they would be called a "cinch to win. However after last week when the Bears upset the Cardinals, the Yankees cannot take the Bears too lightly.

Both the Colts and the Cardinals will be in there fighting Friday and if the Colts win they will still be tied for first place. However, if the Cardinals win the two teams will be tied for second place. Either way the game between the Yankees and Colts will determine a tie between the three teams, if the Colts win, or a championship for the Yankees. The championship team will play in district playoffs in August.

The other remaining game of the season will be Monday when the Indians take on the Bears. The Indians have a 5-6 record and the Bears a 1-9 record.

CARDINALS—INDIANS

The Cardinals took an early lead Tuesday at LL field and the Indians came up within tieing distance but were unable to knock in the needed runs and fell to the Cardinals 12-9.

The Cardinals scored four runs in the first, fourth and fifth innings for a comfortable lead util the 6th when the Indians drove in 7 runs. The Indians had only scored 1 run in the first and another in the 5th until their rally started in the final inning. With bases loaded, Indian Phillip McCall hit a triple after Nehemias Rangel drove in two runs.

Gene Goeke was leading scorer for the Cardinals with 3 runs and saw action on the mound along with Gary Heitmann, Ibra Henry and Edwin Marek. Ricky Hollas, catcher, scored 2 runs along with Eddie Coker, Joey Mondrik, Ibra Henry, Edwin Marek, Ronnie McCall and Ronnie Bennet added 1 run each to the tally.

Nehemias Rangel and Al Matula crossed home plate twice for the Indians and Dale Mueck, Mike Mueck, Dennis Hollas, Donald Komar and Allan Fox scored 1 run.

Brothers Dale and Mike Mueck saw action on the mound and Dennis Hollas and Mike Mueck shared duties behind the plate.

COLTS—BEARS

Baseball fans Monday night saw the longest Little League game of the season and so many scores that the losing team could usually win most games. It was 29 runs for the Colts and 11 runs for the Bears.

The Colts had 13 hits and the Bears acored their 11 runs off 5 hits. Winning pitcher was Randy Sapp with Mark Michalka, catcher, and Sapp switching positions in the 5th.

Carl Burnett, David Fincher and Bobby Zavodny saw action on the mound for the Bears with Brian Wilkerson behind the plate.

Players from both teams got on the homerun board with Bear Carl Burnett hitting a clean homerun in the 3rd, and with bases loaded in the first, rounded the bases on Colt errors.

Colt Gary Hornung hit a homerun in the second with one on, giving him 5 runs during the game. Randy Sapp was leading scorer with 6 runs, Hornung and Michalka had 5, Ricky Kelly 4, John Houston 3, Frank Bargas and Bernard Tepera 2, David Delony and John Bargas 1 run each.

Kenneth Scott, Gary Trdy, Bobby Zavodny and Carl Burnett scored 2 runs each for the Bears and Brian Wilkerson, Mark Fritz and Mark Harwell added 1 each.

CARDINALS—YANKEES

It was another crowd thriller Thursday when the Yankees went into extra innings the 4th time this season, but this time the Cardinals came out with the winning run to break the 8-8 tie. Only 3 days earlier the Indians tied the Yankees up 10-10 and the extra inning gave the Yankees 3 runs while the Indians were unable to score.

The Yankees had a 2-4 lead during the early innings and had picked up a 8-4 lead when the Cardinals came to bat in the bottom of the 6th. The Cardinals started their scoring spree and after tieing the game up, Gene Goeke stole home in the 7th for the winning run.

With one on in the top of the 6th, Gene Kopriva hit a home run for the Yankees bringing his scoring total to 3. John Alvarado scored 2 runs and Joe and Jeff Smitherman and Joseph Schmidt added 1 run each.

Gen Kopriva, and Joe and Jeff Smitherman shared pitching duties for the Yankees. Kopriva and Mike White were behind the plate.

Cardinal players carried Gene Goeke off the field after he came in for the winning run, one of his 4 for the game. Ibra Henry and Eddie Coker scored 2 each and Allan Jones and Gary Mitchan 1 each.

Joey Mondrik and Goeke were on the mound for the Cardinals and Ricky Hollas was behind the plate.

COLTS—INDIANS

Wednesday the Indians had pitching trouble and fell to the Colts 23-0 when only 2 days earlier they had played the Yankees to a tie ball game.

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office in Cameron, Texas, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879. Published every Thursday.

For Better Mental Health . . .

County Judge O. B. Harden advises Milam County is under consideration for an office for mental health services.

It seems that Milam County per 1,000 population has a high percentage of commitments to the Austin State Hospital and that a need exists for at least parttime services here.

Office space would be made available in the remodeled Milam Courthouse.

Officials for years have noted the need, that Milam Countians would be served by some attention to mental as well as physical treatment, evidenced by our new hospitals.

Reliable authority says that one in every seven people onetime during their life will be treated for some kind of mental problem. It is a special problem needing special attention.

Somekind of outpatient center or local office for such proper care is in order for Milam County.

What Others Say . . .

Berkley's Lesson . . .

Berkeley, California, has now been given a new and very potent reason for doing more to end the rioting which arises from and around the University of California campus. The Swiss company which handles insurance for Berkeley has just told the city fathers that it was canceling its riot coverage. The city has been forced to agree to keep other coverage with this company.

Although Berkeley hopes to be able to find another company which would grant the city riot coverage, the lesson in all this should be plain. It is that a city's (or area's) inability or unwillingness to control rioting can only pile up an evergreater mountain of troubles for it.

The Swiss are hard - headed businessmen. When they let Berkeley know in such plain language that they do not believe the city is handling rioting well, this is no emotional judgment coming from America's extreme left or the extreme right. It is the assessment of men whose business it is to look at such a situation calmly, factually, and experiencedly, and to make their decisions accordingly. In short, it is an impractical vote of no-confidence in the way officials have reacted to a half - decade of unrest, threads, disorder and violence.

It would, of course, be unfair to lay the whole blame sorely at the feet of public officials. Vacillation on the part of university authorities in the face of disorder, as distinct from orderly protest, is equally much to blame. But, in the final analysis, the public authorities themselves are responsible for what goes on within their municipal limits, and they have not, in the Swiss' judgment, responded adequately to the challenges.

While it is Berkeley which is affected in this instance, it may well be other American cities in the future, if they do not heed Berkeley's lesson. This does not mean, and never should mean, repression of a rightful expression of opinion by individuals or a group. But it does mean an end to the permissiveness or weakness which fails to end disorder quickly and decisively the moment it begins.

Lawmakers Will Report Back To Work July 28

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

Now it's official: The special 30-day legislative session to draft a biennial budget and a $300 million tax bill will start July 28.

Gov. Preston Smith has issued the call and put lawmakers on notice to report back to work on the final Monday in this month.

As expected, Smith worded his session - summoning proclamation so as to try to prevent the legislators from giving him another one-year appropriations bill like he vetoed on June 21.

However, the Governor told newsmen that if Texans approve a Constitutional Amendment on August 5 calling for annual legislative sessions he might relax his directive to permit a single-year spending pattern. Actually, Smith sees no chance of the amendment being approved. What he expects is for vites to strengthen his demand for biennial budgeting by firmly rejecting annual sessions as they have done before.

Governor Smith will permit lawmakers to consider other subjects in the 30-day session only after they have completed their mandatory duties of financing the government for a two-year fiscal period extending until August 31, 1971.

Apparently Smith will hold no pre-session conferences on taxation with House Speaker Gus Mutscher and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes since Barnes is now in Tokyo, Japan.

However, Mutscher plans to hold a series of appropriations committee meetings on the budget before July 28 and also endeavor to arrive at a negotiated understanding with the Senate on the perimeters of spending.

"The real key to the success of the session," commented Mutscher, "is how much work we put in before it actually opens." He has already conferred with his tax and appropriations committee chairmen and most of the individual House members.

The speaker wants the House Committee to complete both appropriations and tax bill hearings during the first week of the session and send the measures to the Senate by the end of the second week.

Smith indicates that he will spell out his tax program on the opening day of the session. He has been swapping revenue ideas with staff members but still isn't offering any hints as to his final decision on the type of tax or taxes he will propose.

COURTS SPEAK

An historic federal court decision prohibiting a cut in welfare payments to mothers with dependent children also prevents the State Welfare Department from receiving federal funds unless a new plan for aid to families with dependent children is worked out.

So, the Welfare Department is boxed in.

A Constitutional restriction limits welfare payments to $60 million a year. At the same time, court rulings continue to make more families eligible for AFDC. This problem will be relieved only if voters approve a Constitutional amendment on August 5 to increase the welfare fund to $80 million. If this amendment fails, an emergency condition will exist which may bring federal action to invalidate the constitutional restriction altogether.

Liquor Control Board has no authority to prevent managers of private locker clubs from buying liquor for club members. So held the Third Court of Civil Appeals in affirming a trial court decision.

Even a "basically illegal" and "fundamentally erroneous" school district assessment procedure does not restrict a district from collecting taxes, says the same court in a Bertram school case. Twenty-eight taxpayers, alleging that assessments ignored market values, sought an injunction to prevent collections on 1968 tax rolls.

Texas Supreme Court refused to reverse two lower courts' decisions and ruled against 80 Sanger ISD taxpayers in their suit to keep the district from raising taxes by more than doubling assessed valuation of property.

Port of Beaumont Navigation District lost a $6,300 damages judgment awarded by a local jury when the Texas Supreme Court upheld a court of Civil appeals reversal. Suit was against the AT&SF employees were working for the navigation district when the accident happened.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED

Governor Smith named Rep. R. G. (Randy) Pendleton of Andrews to head the governor's Washington office on state-federal relations. Then he called a special election for July 22 in the 73rd district (Andrews, Dawson, Gaines, Lynn, Martin and Yoakum counties) to pick Pendleton's House successor.

Nine members of Texas Tech University board of regents were appointed by Governor Smith. They are: Marshall Formby of Plainview, Roy Furr Sr. and Retha R. Martin of Lubbock, Waggoner Carr of Austin, Charles D. Mathews of Dallas, Judson F. Williams of El Paso, R. Trent Campbell of Houston, Frank Junnell of San Angelo and James J. Ling of Dallas.

Smith also named nine to the State Manpower Advisory Committee and designated Thomas M. Maes II of Beaumont chairman. Other members include James D. Abrams of El Paso, Gerald R. Brown of Austin, Fred Dillard Coy of San Antonio, Jose L. Gonzalez of Laredo, Marion A. Graham of Houston, Harold D. Levy of Fort Worth, Odis Rhodes of Nacogdoches and Mrs. Mae Simmons, Lubbock.

Dr. Billy M. Jones of San Angelo will become president of Southwest Texas State University, Marcos on September 1. Dr. Frank Harrison, who has been acting president of the University of Texas at Arlington was made president effective July 1.

Former House Speaker Jim Lindsey of Texarkana has been named chairman of the Real Estate Developers group, a sub-division of the Governor's Committee of 500.

REPUBLICANS REORGANIZE

First complete change in the state Republican guard in seven years has just been approved by the GOP executive committee.

William M. (Bill) Steger, Tyler attorney, was elected state party chairman in a close race with Millard K. Neptune of Austin. Mrs. Malcolm Milburn of Austin was designated vice chairman. She won over Mrs. John Andujar of Fort Worth. Peter O'Donnell Jr. of Dallas, who has served as chairman since 1962, moved into a national GOP committee post in Washington thus creating the opening in Texas. Steger pledged his efforts to improve communications with all elements of party.

Since the moon has almost no atmosphere, an astronaut standing there would be able to see twice as many stars in the black sky as he could on earth.

Mental Health

RURAL MENTAL HEALTH SERVICES BEGINNING

If you live in a rural area, the chances of getting the kind of treatment needed for mental illness are much poorer than if you live in or near a major city.

Take the case of Jim Smith. That's not his real name, but his case illustrates the point that mental health services are urgently required right in the areas where people live—not many miles away.

He was a gloomy man, though, forever predicting war and depression. His fears became more and more unreasonable. He began to talk of "enemies" hiding in the fields. Finally he grew so terrified that he refused to go out of the house, cowered in corners except at mealtimes, and spoke less and less to anyone.

His sister and brother-in-law couldn't find adequate mental health treatment. They sadly concluded that he would have to be "put away." He was committed to the State mental hospital many miles away.

This happened five years ago. Jim Smith is still there. But it could have happened this year. It can keep on happening—until there are adequate, accessible resources within financial reach of of the family needing them and within their area.

Mental and other hospitals are improving their programs to get many persons back on their feet so to speak, and returned to their communities in weeks or months, not years.

Then, tied in with hospitals, there is the big new community mental health centers program. Federal laws to improve mental health services for all Americans now make rural areas eligible to receive funds to develop mental health services of many kinds—most of them outside of hospital walls.

About one-third of the States are already using these Federal funds to establish rural mental health services. To be eligible, a service area should contain 75,000 to 200,000 people. But there is no limit on the geographical area; and the services can cover many counties.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

I found an item at the bottom of an inside page in a newspaper out here yesterday that needs the attention of everybody when man's entire program for exploring outer space is examined closely.

According to it, the world's only spacewoman, that Russian housewife named Valentina Tereshkova who orbited the earth a while back, says women should not have to do housework.

"Women," says Val—I'll call her Val to keep from stumbling every time I try to Pronounce her name—"should be relieved of dull mechanical types of work like preparing food, cleaning house, doing the laundry, etc."

This throws an entirely new light on the whole space program.

I have been vaguely suspicious all along about the program, not opposed to it, understand, in fact watching every new flight every time my T.V. set was working, but still wondering whether it would finally prove worthwhile, I mean, spending 10 billion dollars to get a soil sample from the moon when we're not even taking care of the soil on earth like we ought to, but if the space program is going to result in freeing women from household chores, that calls for a hard second look.

Val's notion is that cooking and doing the laubndrey and making up the beds and things like that should be taken care of by public service, like garbage collecting and street cleaning are.

And who, I'd like to shout, is doing the garbage collecting and the street cleaning? Men, of course.

In other words, Val sees the space program as a way of forcing men to come home to frozen t.v. dinners after standing in line two hours to pick up their shirts at the government laundry office.

As far as I'm concerned, they can call the whole thing off.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

2) increases the constitutionally-authorized amount of Water Development Bonds by an additional $3.5 billion, subject to the approval of a two-thirds majority of the legislature;

3) eliminates the present 4 percent interest rate ceiling on Water Development Bonds;

4) eliminates the 1982 termination date for the Water Development Fund, which is derived from the sale of Water Development Bonds;

5) extends the maturity schedules for Water Development Bonds from 40 to 50 years; and

6) authorizes the Texas Water Development Board under such provisions as the legislature may prescribe to receive grants and to contract with the United States, other states, foreign governments, and others for acquisition and development of water resources and facilities and to secure such contracts by the general credit of the state.

BACKGROUND

Section 49-c was added to Article III of the Texas Constitution in 1957. This section created the Texas Water Development Board as an agency of the state for the purpose of making loans to local governmental agencies which sponsored construction of projects to conserve and develop the water resources of the state. The section also authorized the Water Development Board to issue and sell $100 million in bonds to provide for a Water Development Fund and authorized an additional $100 million, subject to the approval of a two-thirds majority of the legislature.

In 1962 Section 49-d was added to Article III and authorized the Water Development Board to acquire conservation storage space in reservoirs to be constructed on Texas streams by federal or local governmental agencies. In 1966 Section 49-d was amended to permit the acquisition of a variety of water-resource projects in addition to reservoir storage space. The 1966 amendment also authorized an additional $200 million in bonds subject to the approval of a two-thirds majority of the legislature.

The Water Dvelopment Board derives its statutory powers, responsibilities, and guidelines from the Texas Water Development Board Act. In addition to those set ou in the constitution, the Act, as amended, conferred on the board the power and responsibility to develop a statewide water plan to serve as a flexible guide for the orderly development of water resources in Texas. The Texas Water Plan was completed in early 1968 and, if carried out, will require the consruction of tremendous water development and conservation facilities during the next 50-year period.

The proposed amendment contains those constitutional changes necessary to implement the Texas Water Plan.

ARGUMENTS

For:

1. The future economic growth of Texas is dependent on adequate water resources and the passage of the proposed constitutional amendment is necessary to insure that those resources will be available at the time they are needed. Studies made by the Texas Water Development Board and by the United States Bureau of Reclamation show conclusively that Texas' present economic growth is far outstripping the state's available water resources. Unless additional water resources are developed, the state's economic growth will be stymied and, in many areas of the state, economic conditions will aatually retrogress.

2. The Texas Water Plan offers a means of developing adequate water resources in an orderly, efficient manner over a 50-year period. Although Texas water resources are fairly adequate at the present time, the adoption of the proposed amendment is necessary to implement the Texas Water Plan and avoid extensive water deficiencies in the future since long periods of time are required to construct the facilities necessary for water-resource development and distribution.

Against:

1. The burden to the Texas economy of the bond issue and the construction project envisioned under the Texas Water Plan will be made greater even though all the bonds will not be issued the same time.

2. Although the Water Development Bonds are revenue bonds that will be amortized ultimately by water users, there will be certain interim costs incurred prior to the time water becomes available to the users, and these costs will probably be levied on a statewide basis. Annual outlays over the 50-year period encompassed by the Texas Water Plan will be substantial.

Contemporary Art In Alcoa Exhibit At UT

AUSTIN

About 60 avant-garde paintings, entitled "Alcoa Collection of Contemporary Art, An Exhibition of Works Acquired from the G. David Thompson Collection," went on display this week in The University of Texas Art Museum.

The exhibit will remain on view through July 27 in the mezzanine gallery.

The show is sponsored by the Aluminum Company of America, which bought a segment of Mr. Thompson's collection upon his death in 1965. The American Federation of Arts is circulating the exhibit.

Artists from a dozen countries are represented. Spain, Italy, Poland and the U.S. are most strongly represented but works from Germany, Switzerland, Canada, Columbia, Brazil, Japan, Israel, Mexico and France also are included.

Mr. Thompson was a successful steel executive who assembled a collection of modern art valued in the millions.

Throughout his lifetime he was interested in the works of artists he considered "comers." Among some of the artists who achieved internationinal acclaim after their works were purchased by Mr. Thompson are Alberto Burri, Gottfried Honegger, Alfred Jensen, Niki de Sainte-Phalle, Antonio Saura and Victor Vasarely.

In a foreword to the exhibition catalogue, David Rockefeller, president of the Chase Manhattan Bank, says:

"Right up to the time of his death Dave continued to add to his collection comprising the work of little-known artists. Many of them subsequently won acclaim and some of them wide reputations int eh international avant-garde."

Mr. Thompson once observed that he collected the modern masters because "I'm drawn to color and bold patterns" and because modern art " makes me feel alive."

The University Art Museum is open to the public without charge. Summer gallery hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, and 1 to 4 p. m. Sunday.

Texas Hog Cholera Program Enters Phase 3 On August 1

Texas will advance to Phase 3 of the National Hog Cholera Eradication Program Aug. 1, the Texas Animal Health Commission has announced.

Dr. Don Hudman, Texas Agricultural Extension Service swine specialist at A&M University, said Phase 3 is a continuation of immediate reporting of hog cholera outbreaks and more vigorous inspection of garbage cooking and feeding facilities.

Infected herds will be quarantined and premises depopulated by marketing healthy animals in a federally inspected slaughter plant. Diseased animals will be eliminated on the premises by burying, burning or rendering under supervision of regulatory veterinarians.

Phase 3 also provides an indemnity payment due to an outbreak, Hudman added. The indemnity is shared equally by the state and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"Maximum indemnities for infected herds wil be $100 per head for purebred, inbred and hybrid swine and $80 a head on grade swine," the specialist explained. "Payment will be limited to living swine present when a regulatory veterinarian arrives on the premises. Hog producers should report sick animals to local veterinarians to qualify for payments if cholera is present."

Another important part of the program is the ban of interstate shipment of vaccines and vaccinated hogs, Hudman added. A change in shipping rules will halt interstate shipment of modified live virus and inactivated cholera vaccines after July 1.

Regulations d not affect use of anti-hog cholera serum.

Interstate shipment of hogs vaccinated with modified live virus, or exposed to hogs vaccinated with modified live virus, will be prohibited after Jan. 1 1970, unless the animals were vaccinated before July 1 of this year, Hudman said.

4-H NEWS –

By Fred Schuetze

District 8 4-H Leadership Lab was held at Lake Trinidad from June 22 - 28. Those 4-H'ers attending from Milam County were: Wayne Jistel, Clyde Jistel, Paula Fleming, Peggy Stephens, Melvin Hollas and Viola Lamere.

The major purpose of this lab was to help the leadership ability of each 4-H'er attending so that he or she could go back to their own county and be a more effective junior leader.

Although the 4-H'ers from Milam County had lots of fun they also had many hours of long hard work. Melvin Hollas and Viola Lamere served as apprentice leaders and their major responsibility was to help the agents they worked with on getting the committee assignments done and also give each committee member some knowledge of leadership that they could carry home and use.

Melvin served as apprentice for the Family Living Committee and Viola served as apprentice for the recreation committee. Peggy Stephens served as a member of the Recap committee, Paula Fleming as a memeber of the Group Living Committee, Clyde Jistel on the Recreation Committee and Wayne Jistel on the Highlight Committee.

The group was accompanied to the lab by Fred Schuetze, the Asst. CAA of Milam County.

County Agent's Notes ....

Five Cause Of Farm Accidents

By J. D. Moore

Farming is one of the Nation's most hazardous occupations. Five main reasons are cited by safety experts for this statement.

Because farmers engage in a wide variety of operations, they do not develop the high degree of proficiency acquired by factory workers who perform a single task, year in and year out. In doing their jobs, farmers use many different kinds of equipment in the course of a single day.

A second reason is that today's agricultural production depends on the use of vast and varying amounts of power, ranging from a fractional horsepower motor on a drill to hundreds of horsepower on heavy equipment. The control of this wide range of power, under varying conditions, depends upon the knowledge, trainging and skill of the farm operator.

Experts cite the general lack of training in operation of high speed and high powered equipment as being the third reason for farm accidents. Many agricultural workers learn in a haphazard manner-either from others (picking up bad habits as well as good), or from experience which can be costly.

The county agent says that a lack of supervision in most farm operations causes a wide deviation from accepted farm safety procedures. This factor keeps the accident industry.

And finally the high farm accisafety promotion and safety consafety is short compared to that sciousness. The history of farm dent rate stems from a lack of dent rate high.

CATTLE HEALTH

Cattle grubs cost the Texas livestock industry several million dollars each year. Losses to this pest are an important problem in Milam County.

Losses occur at all levels in the production and marketing chain. The cow-calf producer is concerned about the reduced milk production by mother cows and resulting reduced weaning weights of calves.

The feeder suffers profit losses as a result of reduced gains and a lowered market price for grub- and slaughters grubby animals realizes hide losses, carcass trim, increased handling costs and lowered carcass value. Consequently, cattle grub control deserves the attention of the entire beef cattle industry.

Cattle grubs can be effectively controiled through the proper use of systemic insecticides, the county agent advises. Depending upon the operation, systemics can be administered as dips, sprays, backline pour-ons, mineral mixes or feed additives. Cost of these treatments vary with the method and chemical selected, but generally, ranges less than 50 cents per animal in most instances.

The county agent's office has complete listing of chemicals and methods of treatment for systemic cattle grub control. He urges beef cattle producers to call or drop by his office for the recommendations.

Before purching and applying livestock insecticides, read the label and pay particular attention to precautions and restrictions listed. Observe strictly the slaughter intervals as clearly stated on the label, as well as other precautions, advises the county agent.

ASCS

By Alva E. Sanders

The shorn wool incentive price will be 72 cents a pound for 1970 marketings, and increase of 3 cents a pound over the present support level for 1969 marketings. The support price for mohair will be 80.2 cents a pound, 2.8 cents higher than the support price for 1969 marketings.

The price of pulled wool will be supported at level comparable to the incentive price for shorn wool.

Shorn wool payments will be based on each producer's returns from sales. The percentage will be that required to raise the nati,onal average price received by all producers from shorn wool up to the announced 72 cents a pound incentive price.

The 1970 support program will be carried out under the National Wool Act of 1954, as amended by the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965, which prescribes a formula for determining the support price for wool. The Act was extended last year to cover marketings through 1970.

Payments to producers on the 1970 calendar year marketings will be made beginning in April 1971. Applications for such payments must be filed not later than Jan. 31,1971.

Hurry Fresh Corn From Field To Pot

The less time from field to fire the better for sweet corn.

Warm temperatures and time causes it to lose flavor and tenderness, says Gwendolyne Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist. Natural corn sugar begins to change to starch within 20 minutes after picking.

Sweet corn should be cooled as quickly as possible. Sugar conversion to starch increases rapidly as the temperature increases. While as much as 50 percent of the sugar may be lost in a day's time at a storage temperature of 86 degrees F., only about 8 percent is lost if the corn is stored at 32 degrees F.

When shopping for fresh cor, Mrs. Clyatt suggests to look for: corn in ice or refrigerator displays; even rows of fresh, tender, plump, milky kernels—just firm enough to offer slight resistance to pressure.

Farm Group Asks Cuts In Spending

WACO

The Texas Farm Bureau is asking Congress to make substantial cuts in federal spending as a means of balancing the budget, slowing inflation, and permitting early termination of the income surtax.

The state farm organization is also advocating retention of the 7 per cent investment credit as a permanent feature of the national tax system.

Sidney Dean, president of the 110,689-member organization, sent a telegram to all members of the Texas delegation in the House of Representatives calling for their vote against HR 12290, the bill to extend the income tax surcharge and excise taxes and terminate the investment credit.

The House subsequently voted passage of the measure by a bote of 210 to 205, and the Senate is expected to act on it soon. Some modifications of the bill are expected in the Senate.

Farm Cooperatives Urged To Study New Lending Law

Farm cooperatives that extend credit are being urged to study the new Truth in Lending law.

The legislation was enacted by the last Congress and went into effect on July 1.

Johnny R. Feagan, Texas Agricultural Extension Service economist in farm organization, emphasized that the government is not attempting to regulate the amount of interest or charges made to customers. Instead, the act simply enables customers to examine in detail the credit terms of the sale.

Cooperatives that extend credit on sales will need to examine the law and make changes necessary to comply, the economist said. For those cooperatives that do not have a credit policy, it would be wise to establish one which will meet the regulations's requirements.

Feagan said a cooperative is affected by the act if it extends credit up to $25,000, along with a finance charge, to a person, or if credit is extended with no finance charge but repayment is to be made in more than four installments.

County Crops Tour Set For Monday

The Milam County Crops Tour will be held Monday, July 14, beginning at the Post Office in Cameron at 8 a.m., acording to Wilburn Beckhusen, chairman.

New crop varieties, row spacing and fertilizer test will be visited. The tour will end by noon. The public is invited to attend.

INSECTICIDES ON COTTON

Because of the many problems brought on as a result of continued insecticide use, today's cotton producer must carefully weigh the insect situation in his field, study the alternatives, and make control decisions on the basis of his own insect situation.

Woodum Is Named Director For TADA

R. J. Woodum, Woodum Auto Sales in Cameron, has been appointed Area Director of the Texas Automobile Dealers Association.

H. C. Pittman, TADA executive vice president in Austin, said Woodum will report to the TADA Board of Directors on all phases of activity relating to the motor vehicle buying public in the Cameron area.

"Mr. Woodum will work closely with legislative and other governmental officials on all matters pertaining to the industry and the auto buying public," commented Pittman.

Peanut Growers Ask For Hearing Under 'Check-Off' Program

AUSTIN

Texas peanut growers have requested a hearing before Agriculture Commissioner John C. White on July 16, seeking certification to hold a state-wide referendum for protection and promotion of their crop.

This is the first group to approach the Commssioner under the new "commodity check-off program" authorized by the legislature this year, White noted.

A public hearing has been set for 10 a.m., Wednesday, July 16 in Austin to consider the certification of the Southwestern Peanut Growers' Association of Gorman as the authorized organization to conduct a state-wide referendum. Evidence presented at the hearing will determine whether or not certification is granted.

The petition to the Commissioner also proposes a nine-member commodity producers board to represent peanut farmers all over Texas.

All action by commodity groups seeking to organize under the check-off system must conform to House Bill 764, 61st Legislature, Commissioner White said. The program is a "self-help" project, with the Texas Department of Agriculture merely certifying that an organization truly represents a majority of producers of a specific commodity.

STOP CALF SCOURS

An inexpensive by-product of the cotton-seed oil refining process has been found by Texas A&M University researchers to contain a factor which prevents common scours in calves. Dr. R. E. Leighton of the A&M animal Science Department says excellent success has been obtained in the past two years with dairy calves fed a milk-replacer formula containing the substance.

PLANT VACATION

Give your house plants a summer vacation; move them outdoors. They should be placed in a lightly shaded spot in the yard or garden, or on a porch. Direct sunlight should be avoided because it could burn leaves.

Small Family Saves On Laundry Cost By Using Coin Machines

If a household washes less than five loads of laundry a week, it saves money to use self-service coin-operated machines, according to Doris Myers, Extension home management specialist.

Laundering costs in the coin-operated launderies charged 20 cents for eight pounds—or two and one half cents a pound. Today's larger more efficient equipment makes laundry cost about one and one half cents a pound.

For self-service dry cleaning, several dollars can be saved on every eight pound load, according to National Automatic Laundry and Cleaning Council figures.

In some coin-stores, attendants prepare, clean and hang garments, freeing the customer for other chores.

A Closer Walk With God Will Lead You Right Straight to Church

MATCHLESS
in power is God. How generously He deals with His world. All of our physical necessities are miraculously supplied by Him. He planned it so all wild creatures could live in abundance. He pointed us human beings to faith in God and challenged us strongly by citing the birds, "Your Father feedeth them." Then pause by the clear stream, take in the fresh air, examine the fruits of His fields and "Be Still and know that He is God." Just who among us would doubt that He gave us the soil, the seed and the sea??? He gave His church for congregating and praising The Lord. It is here He quickens our spirits by the revelation of truth and goodness and feeds our deeper needs with His love and grace. He is the matchless beneficent.
You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker and attend services regularly.

"Oh, Come, Let Us Sing Unto The Lord,"—For There Is No Variableness In God's Cause Nor In His Justice . . . Then Come, Let Us Attend Our Church Or Synagogue This Week . . . This Word Of Invitation From Sponsors Of This Spiritual Values Page.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"Concealed" Weapons

"That guy is so tough," runs an old gag, "that if he puts his hands in his pockets, he could be arrested for carrying concealed weapons."

He couldn't, though, no matter how deadly his fists, because they would not be "concealed." In spite of the fabric covering the pockets, anyone could tell that his hands were there.

For contrast, consider this case:

A man arrested with a gun in his pocket argued that it had not really been concealed, because it made a distinct and visible bulge. But the court decided there was still sufficient concealment to make the man guilty of the charge. The judge said a mere bulge was not enough warning, to an ordinary observer, that the man was armed.

It is this test—obviousness to an ordinary observer—that the law usually applies in deciding whether a person is carrying a concealed weapon. Thus, a gun would not be considered concealed simply because a particular person, looking from a particular angle was unable to see it. For exampe:

A man who had a gun openly displayed in his belt was found not guilty of the offense. Even though the arresting officer—approaching from behind—could not see the gun, it was obvious enough for ordinary observation.

And what does "carrying" mean? Does the person actually have to be moving with the gun?

One man, seeing an officer near by, hastily slipped his pistol into an inside pocket. Arrested and brought to trial for carrying a concealed weapon, he offered this defense to the court:

" 'Carrying' means transporting the weapon from one place to another. I did not move a single step."

But the court pointed out that, although "carrying" could mean "transporting," it could also mean just "possessing." The judge decided to pick the meaning which, considering the purpose of the law, made the most sense—and he found the man guilty.

DIPLOMATIC POUCH

Washington, D.C. — The Following letters were recently answered by the Department of State:

Withdrawal from Viet-Nam ....

Victory or no victory, peace talks or no peace talks, let us in the name of decency throw our pride to the winds and bring our boys home. Who knows, maybe there will then be peace. Isn't it worth a try?

Mrs. E.H.T.
Minneapolis, Minn.

Dear Mrs. E.H.T.:

Your desre for peace is understandable but the question of withdrawal must be considered in the light of our purpose in Viet-Nam. In brief, we are fighting to assist the people and the Government of the Republic of Viet-Nam to defend themselves against aggression by North Viet-Nam. We are there, at their request, to help them maintain their right to direct their own affairs free from external interference. This is basically what we are trying to achieve at the peace talks in Paris and on the battlefield in Viet-Nam. We are not seeking a military victory, nor do we want to enlarge the war.

If we were to withdraw from Viet-Nam before we made sure that the South Vietnamese could defend themselves, we would be defaulting on a solemn commitment made to the South Vietnamese people and for which the American people have made heavy sacrifices. The credibility of the United States before the world, especially the forty-odd allies with whom we have defense commitments, would be gravely eroded.

Votes and Vetos

It is my understanding that at the time of the inception of the United Nations the Soviet Union was given three votes (one each fot the Ukrane, Byelorussia, and the USSR) because they were the only joining nation that had a philosophical and political point of view different from the others.

Also, that the establishment of the veto in the Security Council was basically for the same reason.

J.P.

Dear J. P.:

In the course of the wartime negotiations that took place at Yalta in February 1945, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill agreed with Marshal Stalin to support the admission of Byelorussia and the Ukraine as original members of the UN. It is not clear from the record exactly why the President and the Prime Minister acquiesced in the Soviet proposal. As members of the UN, Byelorussia and theUkraine, under Article 18 of the Charter, each have one vote and there is therefore no way of depriving them of that vote except by expelling them from membership or amending the Charter. Under the Charter, both the expulsion and the amendment procedures are subject to the veto.

As to the veto itself, its existence is in no way related to the "different philosophical and political view" of the USSR. It was included in the original U.S. proposals for discussion with the British, Soviets, and Chinese at Dumbarton Oaks in 1944 and was based on two conclusions: 1) that the unanimity of the major powers was essential to enable the proposed organization to maintain peace and security.
